Good reasons why you should buy and sell antiques and the decorative arts through a registered member of the AAADA.

- > Members of the AAADA are fully qualified professional dealers in their chosen disciplines.
- > The AAADA represents around 130 members Australia wide with a collective of some 5000 years experience in the industry, their disciplines and interests stretch across all fields of the decorative arts and collecting.

AAADA PRESENCE ON THE WEB

The AAADA is also accessible on the World Wide Web. Peruse our site at your leisure, to seek out the nearest member who deals in the items you are looking for and search items they have for sale. All the information is available from the comfort of your home or office at: www.aaada.org.au

NATIONAL TRADE REPRESENTATION

We maintain contact with Federal and State Ministers for the Arts, The Federal Bureau of Customs, State Police Departments and National and State Galleries, who may seek our points of view and expertise. Many of our members act in an advisory or professional capacity re Government or Tax Department concessions for gifts to the nation, as well as acting for Customs in evaluating items with import and export implications.

CINOA

Through our delegates to the Confédération Internationale des Négoçiants en Oeuvres d'Art (CINOA), we keep abreast of international developments affecting every aspect of the antiques and art trade. Foreign Governments recognise the expertise of members of the AAADA for the verification of antiques and fine art for customs purposes. All AAADA members are members of CINOA.

AAADA Shows, Melbourne & Sydney 2012

The second AAADA Melbourne Show will be held at the Royal Exhibition Building, Carlton Gardens, Melbourne, opening with a Gala Preview on Thursday, 3 May and opening daily until Sunday, 6 May 2012. A highlight will be a special high tea!

The twelfth Sydney AAADA Antiques and Fine Arts has been deferred due to major renovations and a complete re-furbishment of the buildings at Randwick. Those of you who have attended the show at Royal Randwick over the past couple of years will know the ambience that this venue affords and we all look forward to a bigger and even more exciting event there in 2013.

These events showcase an extraordinary collection of antiques and art sourced by our members throughout Australia and from all over the world. The AAADA Shows are the only antiques & fine arts shows endorsed and vetted by the AAADA.

Workshops, Lectures and Seminars

The AAADA conducts series of workshops, lectures and seminars from time to time in Sydney and Melbourne. They represent a unique opportunity for members of the public to gain greater insight and knowledge in areas of specific interest. To register your interest in, or for more information about the New South Wales series please telephone Adrienne Wilson: (02) 9332 3882 and for Victoria Dawn Davis: 0408 530 259.

AAADA Approved Service Providers

In this brochure you will find a listing by category and State, of members of the AAADA's Approved Service Providers Scheme. The individuals and businesses listed are chosen and recommended by our members for their abilities to provide ancillary services which are in keeping with the specialised skills required for maintaining, repairing and safe keeping of your most treasured objects. Whilst taking no responsibility for the work performed by the Approved Service Providers our members do recommend them for their competence and professionalism.

Purchasing Antiques

As a new buyer of antiques and art the AAADA allows you to buy well, accurately and with purpose. There is no other way to purchase antiques and art where the object is guaranteed, the transaction of the highest professional standard, with a worldwide access to specialists in all fields. Members of the AAADA represent the peak in their field in Australia. All members of the AAADA are also members of C.I.N.O.A - Confédération Internationale des Négociants en Oeuvres d'Art, founded in 1935, representing 28 art and antique associations from 19 countries and some five thousand affiliate dealers located worldwide. Membership is limited to associations which require their members to adhere to extremely strict quality and standards of expertise.

The objects and works of art sold by members of the AAADA represent all times and all cultures. This is the essence of the collecting habit and the essence of human culture. These works are at once stylish, life giving and beautiful. Whether wearable, as with jewellery, an antiquity from the most far flung reaches of human artistry, superb eighteenth century furniture, rare Chinese textiles or an investment quality Australian banknote, the choice is enticing and the path endless.

So how to begin? Browse through our member listings in this handbook, or via our web portal www.aaada.org.au to find a business that deals in your chosen area or an item in a members gallery.

Speak with the dealer—meet them, and discuss your needs or dreams.

Our members may suggest what may be an excellent new area for you to collect. Perhaps to rationalize existing items or to achieve new fields of collecting; how to live with style; to spend wisely; or to be introduced to professional conservators or a wonderful decorator.

AAADA Service Providers have chosen fields of expertise that represent the highest Australian and often international standards. These skills compliment the objects held by members of the AAADA. Ultimately, through trust and education, these relationships become those of a lifetime. Many of our client relationships span generations. This demonstrates the excellence within their field that members of the AAADA offer to clients unlike any other way of purchasing Antiques and Fine Art. We encourage you to explore the purchasing of a wonderful object from a member of the AAADA. One is never enough!

Look for our logo in the galleries and shops that you visit. It is your guarantee of quality, expertise and good service.

Please contact the AAADA for additional FREE copies of this nation-wide list of members and services and detailed information about the Educational Workshops.

Code of Practice

1a. All goods to be sold to the public by Association members shall have a label or ticket attached to or immediately adjacent to the item in question.

1b. Such labels or tickets must give as much reasonable information as possible about the goods and this shall normally include such detail as:

- The full price
- A circa date of manufacture (or the actual year if hallmarked or dated)
- The material (eg. walnut, bronze, etc.)
- The maker's mark or artist's name if relevant/known
- Any major restoration or later additions
- If reproduction

1c. Where this is undesirable or impractical for security or other grounds the full price shall be written on a price list or in a stock book, with a full description to identify the article, and will be available at all times during business hours for inspection by the public on request. N.B. In the case of 1c, there shall be a prominent notice stating: Written prices of all goods offered for sale may be examined on request by members of the public.

2. The member shall not attempt to confuse or mislead the customer or falsely describe any of the goods he/she offers for sale or seeks to purchase. He/she shall in all respects comply with the provisions of the Australian Trade Practices Act and/or any State legislation of a particular nature.

3. Description details as indicated on the label and as offered verbally shall be written on a proper invoice which shall state the name, address and telephone number of the member and date of the transaction.

4. Members shall accept responsibility for descriptions of items given to members of the public by their staff. Staff must be appraised of all the requirements of the Association's Code of Practice.

5. Members shall not make unsolicited visits to private domestic premises.

6. Members shall apply standards of fair dealing equally to the public, members or non members.

7. Members have no authority to act on behalf of or speak for the Association, save insofar as expressly authorised by the Executive.
8. Members shall not state or imply that membership of the Association is a guarantee of authenticity of any article offered for sale or that membership entitles them to any special standing insofar as authentication of articles is concerned. Responsibility for all claims or statements as to the authenticity lies solely with the member.
9. Professional valuations carried out by members (ie. for a fee) shall be provided in writing, signed and dated, and worded to indicate clearly their purpose ie. for Insurance (replacement value) or for Probate (market value) in accordance with the guidelines set down from time to time by the Association.
10. Members are required to cooperate to the best of their ability with customer protection agencies (eg. the police, trading standards authorities).
11. Members shall at all times seek to advance the professional reputation and standing of the Association by acting in an honourable fashion and by promoting the knowledge and understanding of Antiques and Fine Arts within the Australian community.

VALUERS AND CONSULTANTS

AAADA Valuers and Consultants are recognised by the Australian Taxation Office.

Who is a qualified, independent valuer?

A valuer will be qualified either through holding formal valuation qualifications or by being considered to have specific knowledge, experience and judgment by their particular professional community.

This is best demonstrated by being a current member of a relevant professional body or trade association such as:

- Australian Antique and Art Dealers Association
- Auctioneers and Valuers Association of Australia
- National Council of Jewellery Valuers.

A valuer is independent if they are independent of the interests of the fund. This means that the valuer should not be a member of the fund or a related party of the fund (for example, an investment partner).

If your SMSF transfers a collectable or personal use asset which was acquired on or after 1 July 2011 to a related party of the fund, it is required to be done at market value as determined by a qualified independent valuer. Your valuer can seek guidance on acceptable valuation methods from the SMSF valuation guidelines when it is published.
